ADVENTIST CHURCH MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (ACMS)

Adventist church management system was first introduced in South America by few conferences twenty years ago. The General conference soon recognized it to be a powerful tool in church management. It is a digital system software that manage the church membership, local church treasury including online giving receipting, keeping of workers' service records etc.

In the Seventh-day Adventist (SDA) Church, the Adventist Church Management System (ACMS) is an administrative software used for managing church membership, finances, and reporting. It is a web-based system that allows authorized users to manage members data, track financial transactions, and generate reports.

For the Northeast India Union field, training was conducted at Shillong on March 27 & 28, 2025. During these two days executive secretaries of all units together with their administrative secretaries attended the training. We were able to learn only one part of this management, that is the church Membership management where this particular software manages in storing membership details, such as name, date of birth, place, dedication, baptism, marriage, work, profession, contact number, emails, address, record of death etc.

This system management also provide facility for transferring or receiving membership within the country or receiving or transferring members abroad. It also helps in checking if a member has multiple membership record.

Everyone in the training were excited about this system. Right now, every unit is working hard adopting and implementing it, and we are glad to mention that Mizo conference had even called local church secretaries from various church within the conference and conducted the same training.

We convey our gratefulness to pastor Mohan Bhatti, from the Division, Tiago Moises, and Wellington Junior from the General Conference.

HELPING HANDS, HOPEFUL HEARTS

K. Laitui: Reaching New Territories on April 18, 2025

The second health camp ventured into K. Laitui, Saikul—an area without an established Adventist presence. This outreach was made possible through collaboration with the South Circle of SDA workers led by Madam Thethiem Haokip.

Despite being in new territory, the camp was well-received, with 105 patients attending and receiving free medical consultations and medications. The LHM team was greatly strengthened by the presence of Dr. Soreingam Ragui, whose medical expertise proved invaluable throughout the camp. Pastor Kaisoun Gangte and other evangelists continued the practice of praying for each patient, reinforcing the connection between physical healing and spiritual well-being.

Recognizing the specific needs of the community, the LHM team conducted a targeted health talk for the village youth on the "Harmful Use of Tobacco and Alcohol." This educational component addressed pressing health concerns in the region while equipping young people with information to make healthier life choices.

"Entering a community where our message is new presents unique opportunities," shared one team member. "We found the people of K. Laitui extraordinarily receptive both to healthcare services and to the spiritual dimension of our work."

Ngamkhu Village: Combining Health and Hope, April 2025

The quarter's final health camp took place at Ngamkhu Village, Chandel, in collaboration with workers and members of the South East Circle of SDA. This camp was strategically integrated as the culminating event of an evangelistic series titled "Happy Living Gospel cum Health Camp," bringing the Adventist message to an area where it had not previously reached. Once again, Dr. Soreingam Ragui's continued support and medical expertise was instrumental to the success of this outreach effort.

Before medical consultations began, the team presented a health awareness talk on the "Harmful Use of Tobacco and Alcohol," addressing substances that significantly impact community health. This educational component laid the groundwork for the health services that followed.

The medical team attended to 87 patients during this camp, providing free consultations, medications, and spiritual support through prayer from the accompanying pastors. The integration of the health camp with the evangelistic meetings created a powerful demonstration of whole-person care.

Impact and Outcomes

In just one quarter, Lighthouse Health Ministry has:

Provided free healthcare services to 302 patients across three communities.

- ✓ Distributed essential medications at no cost to patients.
- ✓ Delivered targeted health education on natural remedies and substance abuse prevention.
- ✓ Extended spiritual support through prayer and counselling.
- ✓ Forged new relationships in previously unreached communities.
- ✓ Supported local Adventist members in their community outreach efforts.

Looking Forward

As Lighthouse Health Ministry continues its mission through 2025, plans are underway for additional health camps in other underserved areas. The organization remains committed to its three-fold approach: providing immediate medical care, equipping communities with health knowledge, and offering spiritual support.

"These first-quarter camps have reinforced our belief in the effectiveness of this integrated approach," says the LHM Chairman.

"When physical healing is combined with education and spiritual care, we see transformative results that extend far beyond the day of the camp itself."

Communities interested in hosting future LHM health camps are encouraged to contact the information secretary of our ministry @9089955476.

Lighthouse Health Ministry is a non-denominational organization dedicated to extending healthcare services and health education to underserved communities while sharing messages of hope and wholeness. Through partnerships with local churches and community organizations, LHM works to create sustainable improvements in community health and well-being.

A SPIRITUAL FEAST OF SERVICE AND FELLOWSHIP: NORTH CIRCLE SDA COMMUNITY DRIVE AT CHOWAINU

A blessed and spirit-filled community service was joyfully conducted by the North Circle Seventh-day Adventist members at Chowainu Village, in the serene setting of 'Prekhro, Hariidziise & Piso' on June 18, 2025. This spiritual feast was attended by approximately 90 dedicated individuals—youths, parents, elders, and children—who came together in unity and purpose to serve one another in Christ's love.

Organized under the inspiring leadership of the Youth Federation officers, along with Circle Leader Pastor Themyo Shaiza and local church leaders, this lay-led initiative was not just a labor of love, but a profound testimony of Christian unity and fellowship. Members from various churches—Senapati, Makhel, Pudunamei, and Chowainu—joined hands with visitors from Ukhrul and even Tamil Nadu, reflecting the beauty of diversity united in faith.

This Plantation Drive, now in its fifth year, has grown not only in number but in spirit. What made this year especially remarkable was the participation of many parents and elderly members, who took time from their busy agricultural work to be part of this noble cause. Their presence brought both encouragement and blessings, inspiring the younger generation with their commitment and humility.

One touching moment came while volunteers were working in a family field in Pudunamei. When asked why they were helping so selflessly, someone responded with quiet conviction:

"Seventh-day Adventists are known for their community service and helping others, especially during the plantation season."

This simple yet powerful statement speaks volumes about the witness we bear when we serve in the name of Christ.

As the team worked side-by-side, meaningful conversations unfolded about the Gospel and the hope we have in the soon return of our Lord. These community drives are not merely about physical labor they are opportunities to plant seeds of hope, compassion, and the love of God in the hearts of others.

The purpose of such initiatives is clear: to reflect God's care for humanity, especially for the vulnerable and the overlooked. We believe that community service is an essential part of preparing a people for the coming of Jesus. By lifting burdens, extending empathy, and meeting tangible needs, we fulfill the command to love one another as Christ loves us.

"Community service elevates the dignity of human beings, created in God's image, and acknowledges the intrinsic value of every person." It is not just a church activity, but a living expression of faith seen in acts of kindness, selflessness, and support to those in need.

As the Scriptures declare:

"Whoever is kind to the poor lends to the Lord, and He will reward them for what they have done." Proverbs 19:17

"Carry each other's burdens, and in this way, you will fulfill the law of Christ." Galatians 6:2

PLANT FOODS THAT PACK A PROTEIN PUNCH

By Sanitarium Health Food Company
From the March 2025 Signs

Protein is a macronutrient composed of amino acids. Our body cleverly makes some amino acids itself, but there are nine essential amino acids that we need to get from the food we eat. If a food contains all nine of the essential amino acids, like the humble soybean, it is called a complete protein.

Why do we need it?

Protein has long been heralded as the must-have post-exercise recovery food. However, proteins play a role in almost every biological process, and their functions vary widely. According to a CSIRO report, eating a diet higher in protein could play an important role in healthy weight management. *

How much do we need?

A varied and healthy diet will provide enough protein for most people. Having more protein doesn't mean we store it for later—we simply excrete it. Men up to the age of 70 are recommended to have at least 56 g per day, whereas women should aim for at least 46 g.

These five sources of plant protein really pack a punch:

1. Soybeans (1 cup boiled = 29 g protein)

Whether you eat whole soybeans or such products made of soybeans as tofu, tempeh, or soy milk, you will reap the protein benefits. Remember, when choosing your soy milk, opt for one that is fortified with calcium and B vitamins.

2. Pistachios (1 oz = 6 g protein)

Just a handful of pistachios, a perfect healthy on-the-go snack, packs a protein punch and is a good source of vitamin B6, which is needed for energy production, opt for unsalted pistachios to make the most of these nutritious nuts.

3. Peanut butter (1 tbsp = 4 g protein)

In addition to protein, this versatile spread also provides niacin and magnesium for an energy boost. There are a range of peanut butters to choose from to suit your own tastes and needs, including natural and no added sugar or salt varieties.

4. Peas (1 cup cooked = 8 g protein)

Like all legumes, peas are a protein hero. These little balls of health also boast fiber for gut health, vitamin C for immunity, and vitamin K, which helps your blood clot.

5. Quinoa (1/2 cup cooked = 4 g protein)

Quinoa is not only a delicious gluten-free grain, but it is also a source of all nine essential amino acids, iron, folate, and magnesium. It is a very versatile grain—try using it in baking or making it into a delicious breakfast pudding.
